CITY COUNCIL

HOLD MEETING

M. S. Snyder formally applied to the city council Monday evening for a right of way and franchise for an electric railroad through town, his petition describing three different routes, the object being to so build his line as to connect most conveniently with the Peninsular road soon to be extended from San Mateo to and beyond this city. Mr. Snyder's preference of a right of way was along A street to Main, along Main to Stambaugh and along Stambaugh to the southern limits of the corporation. His second choice was by way of Stambaugh and Walnut streets in the same direction as his third proposition was from a point on the line of the Southern Pacific Company at what would be the terminus of Third street if that thoroughfare were extended so as to intersect the railroad thence through the old school property on the proposed Phelps-street extension crossing Main, and along Phelps street to the city limits.

As a substitute for either of the foregoing propositions Mr. Merrill suggested that the proposed road enter the city by way of Spring street, cross the creek at B. street and run along that street to Arguello, which would bring it within a short distance of the Peninsular road. This plan met with Mr. Snyder's approval and he consented that it be made a part of his petition to be passed upon by the council and the people in the granting of the privilege asked for.

As it would be impossible to take action until the matter of extending Phelps street had been disposed of through the bond election, the petition was laid over.

Two ordinances, Nos. 69 and 70, previously introduced, were adopted and ordered published. The first named ordinance specifies the amount of money to be raised for municipal expenses during the coming year.

Ordinance 70 provides for the calling of a bond election on the 21st instant to raise $40,000 to be expended as follows: Twenty thousand dollars for improving the municipal water supply and extending the distributing system; $10,000 for the extension of Phelps street from Main street through to Jefferson and $10,000 for the erection of a new city hall. It was agreed to call a mass meeting of the citizens at the Alhambra (to-morrow) Friday evening in order that the three propositions may be discussed and fully understood by the voters before election day.

The subject of disposing of the city's garbage claimed the attention of the council when it was made known that the failure of the scavenger to pursue his professional duties was due to the fact that he could find no place to deposit his refuse matter collected by him. As a temporary solution of the matter it was agreed that Messrs. Hynding and Beeger would interview the owner of the land in the vicinity of the old slaughter house north of town with a view to secure a dumping place until some other and more sanitary means could be devised for disposing of the garbage.

Complaints were registered against the dangerous conditions of the sidewalks at various places on the island and the attorney was directed to serve notices on the property owners to have their walks rebuilt.

The dog nuisance, one of Redwood's crying evils, was discussed with animation and it was agreed to secure the services of an efficient pound keeper and allow him a suitable income either as a regular salary or through fees for such services as he may perform. The task of selecting a suitable dog-catcher was delegated to Brown and Beeger who promised to give the matter prompt attention. They announced that they are ready to receive applications.

Beeger of the Utilities Committee reported that Mrs. J. H. Offermann had complained of an over charge in her last month's water bill amounting to some $24 more than her bill for the previous month. The difference was due to an undiscovered leak on her property on Phelps street. In settlement of the matter he suggested that she be required to pay one-half of the excess or $12, which would make an amount of $15. The marshal was directed to settle Mrs. Offermann's account on these terms. It was decided to notify the directors of the Union Cemetery to install a meter on their supply pipe to keep a record of the amount of water used by the association, which is being furnished without charge. The marshal was also directed to take note of the water consumption at the railroad depot, it being reported that there was a needless waste of the city's fluid, for which a flat rate of $3 was being charged.

Hynding reported that he had had A street from the county road to the railroad track scraped up, and in order to make the street travelable it would need a top dressing of fine material. He was authorized to purchase a carload of screenings for that purpose.

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

J. H. Coleman, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, struck a keynote at the meeting of the board held last Monday when he made a forcible argument in favor of retaining the waterfront of the north end for the county. The board and a committee, had been engaged in fixing lines for the new city of South San Francisco and the incorporators desired to take in a big slice of the waterfront. Coleman at once saw the impropriety of giving away what may some day be the county's largest asset and made a strong plea to retain the property. As a result the waterfront was not included in the boundary. Oakland some years ago gave its waterfront to the Railroad Companies for a mere trifle and the people of that city have regretted it ever since. They have no control of that property when it should be their most valuable asset producing a large monthly revenue. Public franchises and concessions should not be sold for a trifle. They should be looked upon as valuable property of the people.

There must be harmony in the ranks of the Republican party in San Mateo County during the campaign if the party wishes to meet with success. Republicans must stand as a unit and not be divided into factions. There is a hard battle to be fought. The enemy is always on the alert to take advantage of any dissensions that may creep into the ranks. San Mateo County must roll up its usual republican majority but it will not if it is to be split up by Lincoln-Roosevelt League and Good Government League Clubs. Legislative candidates are to be elected who are to select a United States Senator and the Republican party cannot afford to risk a seat in the upper house on account of the bickering of some disgruntled persons who think they have a grievance. Republicans stand by the old party and be not deceived by false promises and false prophets.

On Sale To-morrow.

To-morrow the West Redwood Land Company will offer 300 lots for sale. The property is at the end of Roosevelt Avenue, and the streets are to be macadamized and sidewalks put down. The electric car line will pass through the property. The price of these lots are $150 and upwards, and the terms are $10 down and $5 a month. A fine lunch will be served on the grounds. This is the best subdivision on the market.

Boulder Creek, Aug. 1, 1908.
Editor Times-Gazette,

In reply to an article published in the Santa Cruz Sentinel July 22, '08, under heading Pescadero News, copied from the Times-Gazette which came to my notice a few days ago will say there is no word of truth in the article, that it is malicious and libelous in every respect. My business on that day in question, in that section of the country was for the purpose of taking an inventory of the felled timber and see the condition of mills and surroundings in view of a settlement with the Glenwood Lumber Co. (of which company I am a Director and own more of the stock than any one individual in the company). That evening a dance was held in the hall over the Company's office.

Just after the midnight supper Mr. Waters of Pigeon Point Light House came into this hall and said there was a trouble down stairs and asked me to go down and see if I could stop it. I went below and did everything in my power to keep peace. At no time did I use violent methods nor did I at any time use a weapon of any description, but used all my efforts to preserve peace.

Walter Bloom had been under the doctors care for six months and was on crutches at the time.

Yours sincerely,
I. T. BLOOM.

Pescadero Pebbles

PESCADERO, August 8.—The Pescadero creamery has resumed the manufacture of cheese and butter.

Mrs. B. V. Weeks left for her visit to Santa Cruz on Wednesday. Picnics are the order of the day—or, rather, of the night. There was a moonlight ride to the sand beach, they tell me, Monday night in which a number of our citizens joined, a go given by Dr. Kemp. Another is in progress, being the celebration of Arthur Teague's birthday, Saturday night next at Pebble beach. Congratulations, Arthur.

THE FOUR-LEGGED BURGLAR.

"Won't you come in and have a cup of tea with me, Mrs. Blank?" "Well, I don't know but I will. My man won't be home till quite late to-night, and I haven't tasted a bite of your vittals for so long a time that I almost forget what they taste like." "Yes, do now, and I'll soon have the supper all set and we'll just have a quiet snap together. It seems kinder nat'l like to see you again, Polly Blank. You remember the good times we used to have together when I lived on the ranch right along side of yours? There, now, the supper is quite ready. Sit you down right there and let me help you to some strawberries—my own growing in; and here's some right rich cream from our burglar. Yes, and the butter, too, I owe it's being so rich and so appetizing to our burglar as well." "Now, Mrs. Kepeakow, what do you mean? Cream and butter—the thick-est cream and the richest butter—from a burglar? Why, you horrify me. You make my stomach fairly wobble over the fright and the cold chills run down my back. If I thought you could talk so cheerily, as you so seem to be doing, of so awful a thing as taking butter and cream from a burglar, much as I respect you, I'd just get up and throw the things out in the road and walk home as fast as my legs would carry me."

"Oh, there now," says Mrs. Kepeakow, "let me explain. You see it's this way: I keep a cow, and that cow I call The Burglar." "But why on earth," replied Mrs. Blank, "do you call your cow a burglar?" "Because, my dear, she is a veritable burglar. Now that cream and that butter is so rich because there's cabbage in it, and there's corn in it, and there's beet in it, and there's carrot in it, and there's peas in it, and taters in it. Here's none of your common-grass butter, but the uncommon and various mixtures that have been grown with care, by the sweat of the brow, by patient tilling and weeding, and watering and watching. But what care I, Mrs. Blank? My cow must live, and I want a good mess of milk night and morning."

So out she goes. Not into a fenced pasture. No, no; but on the road. And with her kit of burglar's tools (her horns and forehead) she opens many a gate and feasts and fattens on many a dainty meal that makes the milk run full and free, the cream to rise yellow and thick and the butter to shine in golden plenty for me and mine.

"Have some more cream, Mrs. Blank, and I'll make you up a roll of the butter to take home, so that your good man may have a taste. You ought just to see our cow. Oh, yes, she's a professional burglar, all right. She wears a mask, too, just like the professional burglars do. It hangs between her horns, 'jest between her eyes. But unlike the two-legged burglar, she prowls around in the daytime."

Up the main street, and down the side streets, now at this gate and now at that. She tugs and pulls, and twists until open it comes; in she goes, and down goes the cabbage heads, the beet tops, the green corn and the potato vines, anything and everything, until, if undisturbed, the whole neighborhood is turned into a wilderness. And our dear old burglar, as swelled into a mountain of beef, and a twenty-quart pail of rich milk is bulging her udders. Oh I tell you, Mrs. Blank, it pays to have a burglar cow, and to have her run the roads and feast and fatten at other people's expense. If you ever leave the ranch and come to live in the village get a burglar cow. Now have another cup of tea with a good spoonful of cream in it, and help yourself to the butter; it's good, for it's composed of the neighbor's vegetables.

Coroner D. B. Plymire reported 570 burial and 70 disinterment permits granted.

The matter of closing certain streets in Granada Beach in the Fourth Township was taken up. Burke Corbett, representing the Ocean Shore Realty Co., presented a resolution abandoning said streets and same was adopted on motion of Debenedetti seconded by MacBain.

Thematizer of the incorporation of the town of South San Francisco was taken up and discussed at some length. W. E. Derulson, president of the Steiger Pottery Works read a long communication in the form of a protest. He claimed that the workmen employed by his factory and others would not be benefited by incorporation as they would not be permitted to build homes at the factory sites. He referred to the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Co. in seething terms. He said the company was actuated by ulterior motives in advocating incorporation. He strongly urged that his plant be not included in the incorporation. W. P. Fullere Co. also protested and asked that they be left out.

Attorney H. W. Brown urged the Board to adopt the surveyor's report fixing the boundary lines.

W. J. Martin explained that the people were behind incorporation and not the land company. At this point further hearing was continued until the afternoon session.

On motion of Elkerenkotter seconded by Blackburn G. R. Sneath was granted a permit to peddle ice in the county.

The application of G. Streizel to peddle dry goods at San Mateo was rejected.

J. W. Coffroth applied for a license to give boxing exhibitions on the Mission road in this county. On motion of Blackburn seconded by Debenedetti he was granted a license to conduct boxing exhibitions at the Mission road arena from September 5, 1903 to September 5, 1909 in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 89.

On motion of Elkerenkotter seconded by Debenedetti H. G. Plymire was given a leave of absence from the state for 30 days.

On motion of Blackburn seconded by MacBain, Assessor C. D. Hayward was given a leave of absence from the state for a period of 60 days.

The following petition signed by James McCormick was read and same referred to Supervisor Blackburn.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of San Mateo county. Gentlemen: We the undersigned residents of Pescadero respectfully petition your honorable body, to grant us what relief lies within your power in regard to Pigeon Point and Pebble Beach. During the last three or four years we have had no adequate way in which to ship our products. The owner of the landing has refused to allow boats to come up to Pigeon Point under satisfactory arrangements, and whenever a boat would come in, exorbitant rates were charged for shipping and landing.

The town is also threatened with the loss of its chief attraction, Pebble Beach, which our former supervisor, Hon. H. B. Adair made such a hard and successful fight to procure for us. The hitching posts have been removed from the highway and people have been ordered to leave the beach, which is a public park.

Unless some relief is given us, our mills will close down, as we cannot ship our produce, a large number of men will be thrown out of employment, and we will be greatly damaged. We would urge as early action as possible, as our shipping season is now here.

Maps of subdivisions one and two of Granada Beach were accepted. Also map of subdivision No. 1 of Montara Beach was accepted.

F. H. Thorpe presented a petition of the Suburban Home Co. to close and abandon certain streets in Faralone City in the Fourth Township. The same was accepted and a notice ordered published for 30 days. The hearing will take place on September 7th.

The petition of M. King to have certain obstruction removed from a street at Belmont was deferred to the next meeting of the Board.

The applications for the appointment of fire and game wardens was deferred for one month.

The matter of the acceptance of Pope street bridge went over for one month.

The complaint against J. J. McCarthy for selling liquor without a retail license was postponed until the next meeting of the Board.

District Attorney Bullock notified the board that a mistake was made in advertising for the Stone, work of the court house. The advertisement appeared for 23 days when the law required 30 days.

On motion of Blackburn seconded by Debenedetti the clerk was instructed to readvertise for the stone work and cornice work. The contract for the former to be completed in 70 working days and the latter in 45 working days.

The following bids were opened for the constructing of the "Battle" Thompson bridge on the Pescadero and La Honda roads: Doyle and Jones $1390; J. H. Bell, $1779; Hazelwood & Doane, $1440; Bixbee, Knott and Monzingo, $1593. On motion of Blackburn Doyle and Jones were awarded the contract.

Bids for the construction of the Walsh road bridge were read as follows:

Jorgensen Bros., $850, extra concrete, $11; Latus & Layaz Co., $697; I. W. Simpson, $798, extra concrete, $10; A. T. Mills, $950; Jas. Hawke, $595, extra concrete $8; Bixbee, Kott & Monzingo, $897, extra concrete, $10; George Casey, $889, extra concrete, $12; Harry B. Morey, $715, extra concrete, $10; Hazelwood and Doane, $822.

Jas. Hawke, the lowest bidder, after observing that the other bids were much higher than his, stated that he would like to withdraw his bid, and was allowed to do so.

The next bid that of Latus & Layaz, was rejected, as it was not in accordance with the specifications, in that it made no price for extra concrete work.

The next bid in order of price was that of Harry B. Morey, and the contract was awarded to him.

For the Alameda de las Pulgas bridge the following bids were read: Jorgensen Bros., $1005, extra concrete, $11; Latus & Layaz Co., $1167; I. W. Simpson, $1220, extra concrete $10; Jas. Hawke, $830, extra concrete $8; George Casey, $1282, extra concrete, $12; Bixbee, Kott & Monzingo, $1088; Harry B. Morey, $875; Hazelwood & Doane, $1220, extra concrete, $11.

The lowest bid, that of James Hawke, was accepted.

Further hearing of the incorporation of the Town of South San Francisco was had. A map of the proposed boundary lines as prepared by the County Surveyor was carefully scrutinized by the supervisors.

Supervisor Coleman objected to the boundaries in so far as they run along the water front, taking from the county control and giving to the town a long line of water front. The supervisor stated that he was willing the town should have a reasonable amount of water front, but objected to the entire water front having a "rope around it."

Other members of the board took similar views. After a heated discussion W. J. Martin proposed a portion of the water front and with this amendment to the lines—the surveyor's boundaries were adopted. A resolution, presented by H. W. Brown, was adopted calling for an election.

The board adjourned to Tuesday to complete its business.

TUESDAY'S MEETING.

The board convened at 2 o'clock. All members were present.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for estimates for the following bridges:

ery, Fourth Township, surveyor's estimate $1500.

MENLO PARK HAPPENINGS

Menlo and Redwood Ball Teams to Meet

The Cemetery Association meets tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the parochial residence.

Mrs. Theodore F. Payne wrote last from the Hotel Vendome in Paris, where she is making quite a stay. Mrs. Payne will shortly journey to Italy with her sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Covington Pringle will shortly give up the Stollard residence and move to San Francisco. This is to be regretted for they were great favorites in society here. They are good entertainers and enthusiastic motorists.

Miss Helen Ellocser, who has been visiting Miss Lydia Hopkins in the latter's home here will return this week to her own home in Mill Valley.

William Southwood, of Palo Alto, and Miss Ellen C. Blanchard, of this place, were married by Rev. Father Lyons last Sunday. The ceremony was witnessed by the relatives of the young couple, who were unattended. After the marriage, refreshments were served at the home of the bride's parents, and the young people left for a trip through the south.

Mrs. Southwood is a well-known life in Menlo Park and has, along with her husband, passed most of her life here. She is popular with the young people here and in Palo Alto. Mr. Southwood has been in the employ of the J. J. Morris Company for some years and is an energetic young man, and popular with our people. After August 15, they will be at home at 334 Webster street, Palo Alto.

The directors of the Nordheimer Mining Company held their annual meeting Tuesday night and the reports of the various officers were read. The company will make extensive improvements at the mine this fall and other adjoining property will be acquired. The mine is located at the Forks of the Salmon in Siskiyou Co.

James Hardgrove has moved into the Bassett cottage on Glenwood Avenue. He has not yet decided what he shall do. However, before engaging in business or seeking a position he will take a vacation.

Emily and Catherine Lynch departed last Tuesday for the Ursuline College at Santa Rosa to resume their studies for the fall term. Both the young ladies are very proficient in music.

Mrs. James Logan entertained a number of friends from San Francisco, Menlo Park and Palo Alto at a pink tea at her cozy home in the Quilitta Park
